SUMMARY

I am a Ph.D. student in the Computer Science Department of University of Virginia (U.Va.), working with Dr. Vicente Ordóñez Román. My areas of specialization are computer vision, graphics and NLP. I am especially interested in learning compositional representations of image and language, and their applications to visual recognition, retrieval, and synthesis. Before joining U.Va., I was a Research Associate at the BeingThere center of Nanyang Technological University, working on Computer Graphics and 3D Telepresence.
